

Epistemological considerations on the 'History of Life' method and its importance for the construction of a participatory management in the school

INTRODUCTION

In progress

Georgiana Lima Viana<sup>1</sup>
Rosana Lima Viana<sup>2</sup>

: georlima@hotmail.com

Received: May 2017 – Accepted: August 2017

<sup>1</sup> Profesora, graduada y especialista en Letras en la Universidad Federal de Maranhão (UFMA), São Luís, Maranhão, Brasil; Alumna de Doctorado en Humanidades y Artes con énfasis en Ciencias de la Educación de la Universidad Nacional de Rosario, Santa Fe, Argentina.

<sup>2</sup> Profesora y doctora en Salud Pública en lo Ministerio de Salud, Fundación Oswaldo Cruz (FIOCRUZ), Río de Janeiro, Brasil; Codirectora del Doctorado en Humanidades y Artes con énfasis en Ciencias de la Educación de la Universidad Nacional de Rosario, Santa Fe, Argentina.

---

Epistemological considerations on the 'History of Life' method and its importance for the construction of a participatory management in the school

---

Epistemological considerations on the 'History of Life' method and its importance for the construction of a participatory management in the school

---

Epistemological considerations on the 'History of Life' method and its importance
for the construction of a participatory management in the school

Epistemological considerations on the 'History of Life' method and its importance for the construction of a participatory management in the school

---

Epistemological considerations on the 'History of Life' method and its importance for the construction of a participatory management in the school

---

Epistemological considerations on the 'History of Life' method and its importance for the construction of a participatory management in the school

---

Epistemological considerations on the 'History of Life' method and its importance
for the construction of a participatory management in the school

Epistemological considerations on the 'History of Life' method and its importance for the construction of a participatory management in the school